The Caterpillar And The Butterfly

& Other Poems

Two snow people on a fluffy snow bed
One wears blue and the other wears red

Out in the cold, they snuggle and they cuddle
But they can't have a fire, or they'll melt into a puddle

They look around curiously
They sing a merry song Shining in the moonlight, just where they belong.

Late in the night, when everyone's in bed, “Let's take tour of the town”, whispers Blue to Red Through an open meadow, runs a little brook
It gurgles and chuckles merrily, while I look

On the other side, are the prettiest flowers I've seen
To go over and sniff them, I am so very keen

So I skip across a bridge, brown and made of stone, to the fragrant flower patch where I can be all alone

Far away from people, houses, shops and cars,
I roll upon the grass, enjoying the smell of flowers Eric the caterpillar wandered around, on the dark brown muddy ground

He searched for more food, but he could see none
He had eaten all the leaves, every single one

He had become a big, fat, slow chap
Oh, how he longed, for a nice long nap

Just then,
a peppy butterfly,
singing a merry song, whizzed by

Eric called out,
“Hello Butterfly!”
“How do you manage, to fly so high?”

I am so drowsy,
I need to sleep
I think I'll sleep, for a couple of weeks

The butterfly sang
“Dear Eric you'll see, in a couple of weeks, you'll fly just like me.”
A pirate, a zombie,
a demon, a bat
A monster, a witch, or a frightening cat

On Halloween it's okay to be scary and bad It's okay to be nasty and evil and mad

On this one day
you don't have to behave It's okay to shriek and to howl and to rise from a grave

Halloween is a chance to explore your naughty side to flaunt it and indulge it before it must go back to hide.
Eight Thumbs the octopus is swimming in the sea With his friends all around he's as happy as can be

Mr. Sea Horse looks fat
Did I hear him right?
Cause a pregnant man,
is an amazing sight!

Here's my best friend
She is a star!
I'm telling the truth, in fact,
all star fishes are.

This is Mr. Wobbly
He doesn't have a spine
I am not being rude
For a jelly fish, that's fine

Here comes a dolphin
She's funny and cute
She's friendly and playful, and also astute

Under the sea is a nice place to be
It never gets boring in such diverse company
Said Mr. P to Mrs. P
"Come dear, dance with me"
Said Mrs. P to Mr. P,
"I'm busy, can't you see?"

Said Mr. P to Mrs. P,
"But my lovely girl, let's take this moment for ourselves and swirl and whirl and twirl."

"Let's waltz and jive and tango
Let's cha-cha and foxtrot For just a brief moment let your troubles be forgot"

Asked Mrs. P, indignantly,
"But what of all my chores?
Who will cook and do the dishes?
Who will mop the floors?"

"Wife my dear, have no fear, I'll wash every dish,
if you take the time to dance with me,
and let you skirt go swish"

"So when you're back to your chores, in a little while You can look back on this moment, delight in it and smile"

Finally, Mrs. P gave in She twirled and waltzed and swished And later on Mr. P, did the dishes as promised.
By a quaint little hut,
in a far away place
I feel the warmth of a fire and the wind on my face

Each star, that dazzles the darkness so vast, represents a point of time, in the past

Separated by time
Separated by space
But in the night sky Stars all find a place

They differ in properties, complex and simple
But to our eyes,
all of them twinkle

Not a thing I hear, except what I think
And I think many things,
as the stars, at me, wink

And I think many things,
as the stars, at me, wink
