

A Conversation
AMONG CATS

written by Gabriel Rosenstock

illustrated by Vitor Lopes

Ever wonder what cats really get up to?

Wouldn't it be great to overhear their conversations?

This delightful picture book lets you in on their secrets!

A Conversation
AMONG CATS

Overheard by Gabriel Rosenstock

This book is dedicated to a cat called Mačak.

In 1939, a 12-year old Nikola Tesla wrote: “In the dusk of the evening as I stroked Mačak’s back, I saw a miracle which made me speechless with amazement. Mačak’s back was a sheet of light, and my hand produced a shower of crackling sparks loud enough to be heard all over the house... I cannot exaggerate the effect of this marvelous night on my childish imagination. Day after day I have asked myself, what is electricity?”

A conversation Among CATS

Overheard by Gabriel Rosenstock

"What will we do today?"
"Kill a mouse. What else?"

"Hey, everybody!
Time to kill a mouse!"

"Are those mouses?"

"Those are leaves!

And it's mice – not mouses."

"Meeow!"

"A live mouse?
You're kidding me!"

"Seen any mice?"

I mean, mice!"

"NOPE!"

"Let's go home so."

"That's the best idea you've had all day!"

"Good night!
Sleep tight!"

"I've caught a mouse!"

"... I'm not a mouse,

I'm a kitten!"

"Hello, good meeowning!

Meet Lola, my pet ladybird."

"Do you think dogs are necessary?"

... They can't even say 'Meow!'"

"Butterflies are necessary! ...

I thought they were made of butter."

"OK, kitties, it's quiz time!"

"A cathedral! ... A catastrophe!"

"Cats are never late."

Cats are always on time."

"Parsley, sage, rosemary and time..."

"We're off to Scarborough!"
Wanna come along? Meow!"
